The Cast Iron Plow

[illegible] ... the name of Whitney ... and ... every revolution of the wheel of the sewing machine while that of Jethro Wood the inventor of the cast iron plow an instrument more important ... than any ... invention ... steam probably excepted ... utterly unknown ... even the New American Cyclopedia which always unearths the forgotten ... the wrongful falls into history of the plow ... mention him ... Has plow is to day everywhere in use but his name is everywhere unknown The great American nation with its usual selfish pride ... the plow ... has ungratefully ... its inventor a place ... ungenerously has ... one of the ... whose genius has en... of the ... of every bushel of grain raised

The present age can scarcely realize the immense benefits of the cast iron plow Until the year 1740 the soil was tilled with a plow made entirely of wood In that year James Small, a Scotchman, invented a plow with a wrought iron mould board, but so expensive that it was refused and condemned as unpractical. Thomas Jefferson attempted the next improvement, but his efforts only proved that a person may be a statesman and a man of immortal name but still "not know how to keep a hotel" or invent a plow His trial and failure were made in the year 1794 For the next fifteen years the most intelligent farmer had nothing but the bull plow —a bungling implement of wood and wrought iron costing $50,—and which was then regarded as good enough for anybody

In the year 1814 Jethro Wood a Quaker farmer in Cayuga county New York succeeded in introducing to the public a plow which had been the darling project of his life then in the meridian From early boyhood he had been so constantly whittling out designs for a cast iron mold-board that his neighbors began to scoff at him as insane and dubbed him with the contemptuous sobriquet of the whittling Yankee His first plow proved defective but undismayed he destroyed his patterns and began anew In 1819 he took out a patent for his perfected plow Even when this far he found the public suspicious and cold Being a person of simple means however he did not bow to the opinions of those whom he wished to benefit but immediately went to work manufactured the plows and after a continued series of backsets and discouragements was prepared to furnish the implements at a low cost and in great number Here again he met further and unexpected difficulty the farmers were unwilling to accept it and hooted at it deridingly calling it "pot metle" and pronouncing it worthless With dauntless energy he succeeded in inducing a number of farmers to witness a public trial of its utility A jeering crowd assembled to witness the downfall of the whittling Yankee and his plow To their amazement and his unbounded joy it performed its work with astonishing perfectness and proved so light of draught that two horses turned a wider and deeper furrow than a span of horses and a yoke of cattle could with the old bull plow Even after this he was compelled to introduce his plow by giving it away to farmers in all directions In addition to this the securement of his patent had cost him thousands of dollars and as soon as its utility had become fully demonstrated and popularized, plowmakers everywhere began to manufacture the plow in defiance of his rights as inventor and patentee Prosecuting these numerous infringements of his patent with fruitless results he saw the fourteen years for which the first patent was granted, expire without having had a return dollar, although he had expended the whole of his handsome fortune In 1833 he succeeded in obtaining a renewal for fourteen years more in 1834 he died, leaving his children a legacy of debts on the unexpired patent

His son Benjamin at once took up the war where his father had left off Instead of suing those who were violating the patent he repaired to Washington and by aid Webster Clay and Adams all of whom had known or sympathized with his father in his invention and discouragements succeeded in securing several important changes in the patent laws With the strong arm of the law now on his side he again begun the suit against those who had encroached upon the invention and refused to pay the premium to the heirs of the inventor He was met by the astounding averment heretofore unthought of that Jethro Wood was not the inventor of the cast iron plow, but that his improvements had been forestalled by other makers To delay the suits and wear away the thirteen unexpired years of the patent the contestants claimed that plows including his improvements could be produced, and time was given them to ransack Europe and America for the specimens which would produce the proof After years of vexation, he succeeded in obtaining a decision in the higher courts that the improvements which made the cast iron plow so effective was due to Jethro Wood and that all manufacturers must pay his heirs for the privilege of making it This decision was made in 1845 the last year which the patent had to run With the untiring energy of his father Benjamin again repaired to Washington to work for an extension of the patent but shortly after his arrival there he fell dead with heart disease and the patent expired without renewal When his estate was settled it was found that while the life of his father and his own and the large fortune of the father, had been spent on the invention they had never received but one hundred and fifty dollars therefor The United States Agricultural Report for 1866, from which we glean our facts in summing up the life work, and death of Jethro Wood says Although he was one of the greatest benefactors to mankind by this admirable invention he never received for his thought genius anxiety and suspense a sum of money sufficient to defray the expenses of his decent burial

These are paltry words to pronounce over the grave of the man who has conferred such ... the agriculture of the world and upon the world itself ... the world It is the fault of the American nation that it never rewards or protects genius and it is the fault of the people of all nations that they always forget their inventive benefactors We trust that this article will in a degree rescue the fame of Jethro Wood and be the means of putting his name in the mouths of a few of the millions who follow his plow without thought or knowledge of the noble inventor

Views of Sensible Southern Men

[illegible] General Longstreet [illegible] the wishes of [illegible] Southern men and [illegible] the Southern people that all that is required for perfect peace is [illegible] in Congressional reconstruction. He is a man who has sense enough to realize that the South is the party that was whipped in the war and that every attempt to reverse this decision is an act of folly. This has been his position from the time of the surrender. No man fought with greater gallantry or ability for the rebel cause, and when that cause failed he, like a sensible man, fully accepted the situation.

Gen Longstreet's letter recalls to our recollection the views of another ex-rebel General, Rufus Barringer of North Carolina, which were published in the Charlotte N C News, in 1867. Said Barringer: "I am no sudden convert to what is called radicalism. For two years I have advocated the [illegible] of negro suffrage as a logical result of the war, and had my views been heeded the South would now be better off." In the following passage from his letter there are some statements which Democrats might profitably consider:

> But that negro suffrage was destined to come in some form no sane man could doubt. At that time (when the war closed) several Democratic papers conceded this fact. It was treated as a measure of simple justice to the negro for his exemplary conduct during and since the war, his obedience to law and his manhood on the field of battle. And after all it was only going back to the broad principles of 1776, when the colored people were not merely recognized as citizens by the Colonial Congress (1778), but when they both fought and voted side by side with white men, and continued to vote in North Carolina until 1835.

It will thus be perceived that the South is only going back one generation and resuming the practice of negro suffrage in accordance with the ideas of the founders of the Republic. Gen Barringer had been a prisoner of war for some time in the North and during that time and afterward he had studied the views and feelings of the Northern people. Accordingly in the communication we are considering he said:

> This great [Republican] party embraced the live men of the North. It was the principle and policy of that organization, in some form or other, that had built up that section and made an empire in a day. They had managed to combine, with consummate skill, the liberal theories of Jefferson with the solid strength and plastic ability of Hamilton. It was the vitalizing principles of this party that had brought the war to a successful close, and thus saved their people, preserved the Union, maintained the Government and shed lustre and renown on the Northern name. It would be monstrous for the same people suddenly to turn their backs on the men and measures of this triumphant party, and commit the honor of their cause, the fate of their colored allies, the [illegible]ty of Southern Unionists, the hopes of the rejoicing millions of Europe, and their three thousand millions of national debt all to the keeping of their recognized foes—Copperheads and Confederates!

With these sensible views, Barringer early sought to induce his Southern friends to [illegible] universal suffrage, and accept Congressional reconstruction as not only necessary, but for the best. "It is idle," he said, "for the South longer to isolate itself from the outside world, or seek to repress the aspirations of the age." Would it not have been much better for the South if they had followed the advice which such men as Barringer and Longstreet have given them?

Co[illegible] & the Chinese and American Citizenship

The Copperhead press is greatly disturbed because the Republicans propose in modifying the naturalization laws to exclude the Chinese from citizenship. The San Francisco Dispatch says:

> They have recently ratified a treaty with the Government of China, one article of which secures to Chinese subjects all the rights enjoyed by subjects of the most favored nations. Now, one of the rights enjoyed by the subjects of European powers is to become citizens of the Republic. Can John Chinaman be denied the same privilege under the treaty? We think not.

This is a very fair sample of the shallowness of Democratic reasoning. Subjects of European powers do not become citizens of the United States by virtue of any treaty between [illegible] Governments and our own, but by reason and through the agency of naturalization laws which are enacted by our Congress under special authority conferred by the Constitution of the United States. Treaties guarantee commercial rights and the like, but they do not provide that we shall receive as citizens the subjects of a foreign State. Every nation controls this subject of citizenship for itself. No subject of a European power has any right to become a citizen of this Republic except as that right is given him by our laws relating to naturalization, with which he must strictly comply. As Congress has sole control of this subject of naturalization, that body may enlarge or restrict it in any way it deems best, and if it concludes to withhold the rights of citizenship from the Chinese it has full power to do so. This habit of confounding with each other subjects which are totally distinct is one of the peculiarities of Democratic reasoning. It is by this process that they arrive at the conclusion that the possession of civil and political rights by the negro establishes social equality between him and the white man—whether the negro desires it or not.

Locking Wallamet Falls

We are glad to learn that the project of building a canal and locks around Wallamet Falls, opposite Oregon City, is assuming definite shape and will undoubtedly be carried into execution. This will be one of the most important enterprises ever inaugurated in Oregon.

The Wallamet Canal and Lock Company is composed of substantial business men who always succeed in their undertakings. B Goldsmith Esq of the firm of Goldsmith Bros, of this city, is President of the Company, and we learn from him that the work will be actively commenced as early in the spring as the stage of water will permit. The Company will construct a canal 2,500 feet long and 40 feet wide, with three [illegible] locks, each 200 feet in length. Hon D P Thompson, one of the Directors of the Company, will go East in a few weeks to inspect similar works there, so that the Company may have the benefit of the improved systems of engineering in enterprises of this kind. The estimated cost of this great work is four hundred thousand dollars. Its completion will introduce a new era in our river navigation, and the people of Wallamet valley, and in fact of the whole State, will be benefitted incalculably by the improved facilities it will afford for transportation.

The time is also coming, and is not far distant, when a similar work will be performed at the Cascades of the Columbia. In these schemes Portland has a deep interest. Every one here or elsewhere in the State who has an interest in the public prosperity should encourage such enterprises. And as the project to build a canal around Wallamet Falls is now about to be commenced in earnest, we hope to see our public spirited citizens lend a willing hand to insure its success.

THE NAVY. The report of Secretary Welles [illegible] of the navy gives the total number of vessels as [illegible] all [illegible] 1,4[illegible] guns [illegible] 2 vessels and 12 guns [illegible] 109 guns; screw steamers [illegible]; side wheels 28, 194 guns; and sailing vessels [illegible] 147 guns. The number of vessels [illegible] 7. The New York [illegible] complain that the Secretary [illegible] Admiral Farragut's tour [illegible] the new [illegible] screw fleet and other important matters [illegible] with the Department. The naval force is now in a reasonably efficient condition, though reduced from last year.

REBELLIOUS AND REVOLUTIONARY. The entertainment to which the Democratic party invites the American people may be judged of by the declarations of the Commercial, a paper which is rapidly taking the lead as the organ of the Oregon Democracy. That paper says "the amendments tacked to the Constitution," (meaning the amendment abolishing slavery and the amendment securing civil rights) "were wrongfully and unconstitutionally made and will be violently swept away." Also that "unless a peaceful solution of our troubles is soon brought about and the old order of things is restored, another revolution will follow." The party which talks in this way will never have power to do the mischief they threaten. The country finds its security in the powerless condition of this revolutionary party.

PARIS, Jan 3.—Dispatches report that several French iron clads are preparing for sea. Burlingame and the other members of the Chinese Embassy have arrived at Paris.

MADRID, Dec 31.—There was a demonstration at Seville recently, but it was suppressed before the troops arrived. The country is entirely tranquil. The Carlists at Navarra are carefully watched by the Government to prevent any outbreak. General Roda, having restored quiet at Seville, returned to Cordova. The National Guard at Seville has been disarmed. Disturbances occurred at Malaga. Barricades were erected in the streets by the population. The disorder is likely to be easily suppressed.

MADRID, Jan 1.—General Cassilio de Roda, after issuing a proclamation to the insurgents of Malaga to throw down their arms, and they refusing to submit, declared the place in a state of siege. The town was then attacked by the Government troops. The insurgents fought in the streets and were defeated, when Cassilio succeeded in restoring order.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec 31.—The Turque newspaper says the Government has not accepted and probably will not approve, the proposition for a European Conference. The St Petersburg Journal, editorially, hopes that Turkey will withdraw the ultimatum sent to Greece before the Conference assembles. It is officially announced that the last of the insurgents of Crete have surrendered to the Turkish forces.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan 1.—The Turkish Government received an invitation yesterday to be represented in the proposed Conference on the Eastern question. It is asserted that Fuad Pacha has been appointed to represent the Sultan. The date of the Conference has not yet been fixed.

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—A London dispatch says the owner of the English yacht Cambria declines young Bennett's challenge to race with the Dauntless of the New York yacht club, the latter being of much the heavier tonnage.

NEW YORK, Jan 2.—Burlingame and Lord Clarendon, the new British Foreign Minister, had an interview to day, wherein they agreed upon the principles of the future British policy to be adopted toward China. Lord Clarendon in reviewing former conversations, freely acknowledged the propriety and justice of the several points which Burlingame advanced in reference to the policy which he deemed desirable that England should pursue. Burlingame held that the objects of the present mission showed evident signs of progress, and by no means evinced a retrograde disposition on the part of the Chinese Government. He also deprecated the practice of the Western powers in using unfriendly pressure to introduce new schemes or new ideas among the people whose knowledge of foreign affairs is of recent origin and who lived under a traditional system to which they were accustomed and attached, because such repressive policy would tend to a revolution and prevent progress, whereas, the Chinese Government fully admitted the necessity of progress and desired to encourage it gradually, without any sudden shock to the feelings, passions or prejudices of the people. Lord Clarendon, in reply, fully admitted that the Chinese were entitled to forbearance from foreign nations. He assured Burlingame that England did not desire or intend to apply any unfriendly pressure in order to induce China to advance more rapidly in intercourse with foreign nations than was consistent with her safety and the feelings of the Chinese people. The following articles were then agreed to between Lord Clarendon and Burlingame:

First—It is necessary to observe with loyalty these stipulations.

Second—All negotiations should be conducted with the Central Government and not the local authorities.

Third—Before inaugurating a war, disputes should be referred to the Home Government.

Lord Clarendon has issued instructions to British agents in China to act in accordance with the spirit and objects of the above. It is explained moreover, to caution British subjects, to pay due respect not only to the laws of China, but also to respect the usages and feelings of the Chinese people. These points settled, the general principles of the American treaty were discussed. Lord Clarendon considered them kindly and agreed that they should form the subject of future negotiations. Having established the basis for the British policy, Burlingame proceeds to Paris to-morrow, and returns to England on the reassembling of Parliament to complete the object of his mission.

DUBLIN, Dec 31.—Col Bates, Justice of the Peace at Tipperary, has been shot in that city by unknown parties and killed. No arrests.

CORFU, Jan 1.—The government of Greece is actually engaged in completing the assessment of national troops.

CORK, Jan 1.—There was a large Fenian demonstration here to day, at which O'Sullivan made a strong speech.

BURIED ALIVE.—Mrs Cramer, a New Orleans (La) school teacher, died very suddenly in July of what was pronounced disease of the heart. Her body was interred the next day, and the mother went home almost broken hearted. One night recently the mother, after passing a most distressing day, fell asleep late at night, and dreamed that her daughter had been buried alive. She jumped up in a frantic state and rushed to her son in law, and cried, "My daughter is buried alive! Oh my daughter is buried alive! What shall I do?" To sleep any more that night was out of the question. At length the proposition was made to have the body disinterred just to satisfy her. So early the next morning the grave was opened and the coffin raised. The body, which had been placed on its back in the coffin, was turned over, the glass covering the face was broken to atoms, the ends of the fingers being beaten and battered half to pieces, the hair torn out in handfuls, and the shroud torn in many places.

Money Combinations

NEW YORK, Jan 3.—There is a strong combination of bulls in Wall street. Drew, Vanderbilt, Jay Gould, James Fiske, Henry Keep and other large capitalists intend to carry up stocks. It is said that they control forty or fifty millions and will have things all their own way. They have their campaign all arranged. The "bears" who are demoralized build hopes upon the opinion that the directors of this colossal movement will quarrel over the Western lines, for which the New York Central and Erie are chiefs in such active competition. It is reported in certain official circles that the great "bulls" intend to sell their stock when they get the market high enough. This will cause a lack of currency, beat down prices, and they will buy again at a large decline.

In the Court of Common Pleas, yesterday, before Judge Barrett, in the case of Hodgkins and others against the Atlantic and Pacific and South Pacific Railroad Companies, an injunction was granted restraining the Shoe and Leather Bank of this city from paying the coupons on the mortgage bonds of defendants, due January 1st, on the ground that they were issued in violation of previous injunctions.

Retrenchment at Washington.

CHICAGO, Jan 1.—The Republican's Washington special says the House Committee on Appropriations had a protracted session on Saturday and made considerable progress with the Naval Appropriation bill. The committee are satisfied that the estimates of that Department are larger than there is any necessity for, and accordingly have made a reduction in many items. It is understood that General Grant does not favor the maintaining of large squadrons at foreign stations that are not important, and especially where American interests can be protected with two or three ships as well as a dozen.

The same committee are charged with the investigation of the contract with Wells Fargo & Co for carrying the overland mail, and sometime since addressed a letter to the Postmaster General asking a suspension of all payments till they have completed their investigations. On Saturday the committee received a letter from Randall stating that the committee's wishes would be complied with. Senator Sherman denies ever having had the intention of introducing amendments, and that he does not know of any Senator having such intentions.

PROSPECTUS

THE SAN FRANCISCO HERALD.

On the FIRST OF JANUARY, 1869, THE SAN FRANCISCO HERALD will be revived as a first-class Commercial Daily Newspaper, independent in politics, under the Editorial control of its former Editor, JOHN NUGENT, assisted by a thoroughly efficient and able Staff. The Herald will be issued as a Morning Paper, but there will be an Afternoon Edition prepared for the Interior of the State and for Nevada, with the Market, Stock and Local Reports up to the hour of going to press.

It is the design of the present enterprise to establish the best newspaper that—by the aid of unlimited means and the highest order of talent in all its departments—can be published on this coast, making it in all essential particulars as much a necessity to the Mercantile and Business Public, and as valuable as a newspaper, as any of the first-class New York Journals. It will be the chief aim of its projectors—by the exactness of its information on all matters of Business—to give it a staple reputation for thorough reliability as a Commercial and Business Paper, at the same time that in the ability of its conduct in the other departments—Law, Literature, Local Intelligence, and other elements that go to make up a Daily Morning Paper—it shall likewise be kept up to the highest standard.

While the vast Agricultural Interests and the rapidly growing Manufacturing Industry of the State will be earnestly promoted, as well Editorially as in the News Department, that interest which drew hither the first grand tide of immigration will be fostered with special care. Everything worthy to be known in connection with Mining Enterprises, and all Inventions and discoveries calculated to enhance the profits or alleviate the labor of the Miner shall be duly chronicled and described.

Mr. Nugent, whose ability as an Editor is sufficiently known, will be assisted by gentlemen whose judgments have been educated and matured by long and varied experience in their respective Departments.

TERMS, ETC.—The San Francisco Herald will be published every morning and will be furnished to subscribers at 50 cents per week, payable to the Carriers; single copies 10 cents. It will be mailed to subscribers outside the city at Eighteen Dollars a year, payable in advance; 6 months, Nine Dollars; 3 months, Five Dollars.

Communications intended for the Editor should be addressed to John Nugent, 414 California street, San Francisco. Business letters may be sent to Bridge Building on the West Side Railroad.—We publish the following communication by request of the parties subscribing to the resolutions therein contained:

Camp at 16th Bridge, O. C. R. R., Dec. 31, 1868.

All the bridges on the first six miles of the Oregon Central [illegible] being this day completed, the employes of Gen. Coffin, about one hundred in number, met at the [illegible] 16th Bridge, by general consent, and being [illegible] to give public expression of their sentiments in [illegible], to that end Mr W. G. Ballard was called upon to act as Chairman, and Mr. W. H. Bragge, elected [illegible] of the meeting. On motion a committee of [illegible] was appointed to report resolutions to the meeting, and after retiring for consultation brought in the following, which were adopted:

[illegible], That it is with feelings of pleasure and gratification that we announce the completion of all the trestle [illegible] on the first six miles of the Oregon Central Railroad, [illegible] as it has been in the remarkably short [illegible] of one hundred days, a large portion of the time [illegible] weather, and very unfavorable for the work, [illegible] built within the time, and by Gen. Coffin, [illegible], ranging in length from forty-five feet to [illegible] feet, and in height from fifteen feet to one [illegible] and eight feet, and containing one million, one [illegible] and forty-eight thousand feet of lumber, besides [illegible], and making in lineal feet one mile and a [illegible] of bridging, the entire timber for the job being [illegible] of the green tree when the work commenced.

[illegible] That having constructed all the above [illegible] know the work to be well done, and able to [illegible] trains and locomotives.

[illegible] the speedy completion of this job within [illegible] allowed, is owing to the energy and perseverance [illegible] Coffin and his efficient foremen and men, [illegible] labor and expense required to complete [illegible] in this wintry season has merited the favor [illegible] company to the contractor, and the favor [illegible] and citizens of Portland to the Railroad.

[illegible] the daily papers of Portland be requested [illegible] these resolutions.

[illegible]—The following is the text of a general [illegible] from the Headquarters of this Department, [illegible] Dec. 31st, 1868:

[illegible] portion of the garrison at Fort Vancouver, [illegible] heretofore been known as Fort Vancouver [illegible] transferred to the Post of Fort [illegible] W. [illegible] Affair.—Last evening [illegible] Hill, [illegible] near the corner of Columbia [illegible] by [illegible] Connelly. Hill went to the house of Connelly [illegible] of his wife whom he supposed to be there, [illegible] quarrel arose between him and Connelly's wife. Hill soon, attended from the [illegible] both Connelly and wife, the one with a [illegible] light. When Hill had reached [illegible] attempted to near the [illegible] of Columbia [illegible] fired, the ball taking effect in the [illegible] body, passing entirely through and [illegible] the left side, just at the base of the ribs, [illegible] "murder" and "I am killed." At half past ten [illegible] inquiry at the place, we learned that he was [illegible] the surgeon has pronounced the wound [illegible] was arrested within a short time after [illegible] fatal deed, and lodged in the County [illegible]

[illegible] Facts.—Our statement in the issue of [illegible] to the manner in which Mr. Bellinger [illegible] out of the editorial chair of the Herald, was [illegible] true. We then made the statement upon [illegible] and now [illegible] furnish the proof of the [illegible] of the West Side Railroad. We can prove, [illegible] in the West Side Railroad, did meet with the [illegible] of the Herald, whether accidentally or otherwise, whether singly or in crowds, [illegible] and [illegible] him as we then stated. In consequence of these threats, [illegible] of the [illegible] weakened, Mr. [illegible] resigned, and [illegible] wears a muzzle. Oro Fino Theater.—The beautiful and thrilling play of East Lynne was performed last night at Oro Fino Theater, before a very large and appreciative audience. Mr. Bates having recovered from his illness made his reappearance in the fine character of Archibald Carlyle, and was received with a warm welcome, attesting how highly the Portland people appreciate him. Mrs. Bates achieved another signal success as Lady Isabel and Madame Vine, and was twice called before the curtain. Miss Fields personated the character of Miss Cornelia, the grim, austere maiden sister of Archibald Carlyle, so decidedly well as to draw out very hearty and frequent applause. Messrs. Robinson, Fuller, Miss Cummings and all the others, in short, performed their several parts very splendidly and with good effect. The play will be performed again to-night, and we advise the theater going public by all means.

Calendar for 1869.—We are indebted to Messrs. Carter & Himes, Book and Job Printers of this city, for a very neat and conveniently arranged Calendar for 1869. As a piece of workmanship it is about as perfect as anything we have ever seen done in this country. George must have put in his best licks, we think, on this job. We are satisfied that he and Carter can run a printing office—they may do it, while we run their Calendar.

Political Personals.

The friends of General Fremont are hopeful that he will be made Minister to France.

Judge Rufus P. Ranney says he will not shrink from the responsibility of running as Democratic candidate for Governor of Ohio.

The Auburn Advertiser says Secretary Seward will continue his residence in Auburn, and that it is Frederick W. Seward who is to reside in New York.

The Hon. Hannibal Hamlin is said to be the most prominent candidate for the United States Senatorship from Maine, on the expiration of Senator Morrill's term.

It is reported that Brick Pomeroy's New York Democrat is in a rapidly decaying condition, and will be discontinued before long. Its subscriptions and advertisements are dropping off, and the receipts of the La Crosse branch are heavily drawn upon to keep the New York concern from foundering.

O. J. Dickey, the successor of Thad. Stevens in the House, is a spare man, below the medium height, with a good sized, well shaped head, and sharp, clear cut, intellectual features. His dark hair and beard are thickly mixed with gray, and his general appearance gives the idea of a close, laborious student, which he has been all his life.

Admiral Wilkes, who caught Mason and Slidell in 1861, only to give Seward a chance to show how gracefully he could back down, seems to be afflicted by avarice, "that last infirmity of noble minds." He wants the flag officer's share of the blockade runner Peterhoff, which the Vanderbilt captured off St. Thomas, while he was then on the Wachusett. The Navy, Treasury and Attorney General have disallowed his claim, and he will appeal to Congress.

Certain Southern papers condemn the army reunion, held in this city, as calculated to perpetuate the recollections of the civil strife. The strife and not the memory thereof is the thing to be regretted.

A company, with a capital of $250,000, has been organized in St. Peter, Minnesota, to purchase the remainder of the Sioux Reservation and the available lands in Redwood and Renville counties.

It has been publicly stated that there are five or six millions of Spiritualists in this country. The New York Observer flatly contradicts the statement, and says they do not number a million, or anything like it.

The number of those who paid income tax in New England this year is given as follows: Maine, 1,659; Vermont, 1,096; New Hampshire, 797; Massachusetts, 21,687, (a decrease of nearly 2,000 from the previous year); Connecticut, 5,751; Rhode Island, 2,883.

Vermont contains no town six miles square with more than 6,000 inhabitants; it has no house not within half a mile of a school, and not more than a hundred native born citizens over twenty-one years of age who cannot read and write. As a natural consequence the State votes Republican by four to one.

Large Coal Fields Discovered in the West.

[From the Omaha Republican.]

Our readers will remember that early in the present year a party of gentlemen, headed by Professor Hayden, passed through our city on their West, for the purpose of making a geological tour through that vast extent of country. This undertaking has now been accomplished, but not without many obstacles and privations; and the party are now on their way to Washington for the purpose of making their report.

J. Stevenson, Esq., one of the party, is now in Omaha, and to him we are indebted for the information we now submit to our readers. He states that the party have paid strict attention to the coal fields of Colorado and Wyoming, where they found coal covering thousands of acres from five to fifteen feet in thickness. The Union Pacific Railroad runs through some of the best of it; and when that railway gets in full operation, it being down grade from the coal field all the way to Omaha, they can use their returning empty cars and readily transport all the coal needed for the use of this district, enabling merchants to supply it, perhaps, at less cost than it is procured by the people of New York from Pennsylvania. The coal will burn anywhere, and can be used even for cooking purposes, is light, and can be handled without soiling the hands.

The fields extend from a little northwest of Cheyenne up to Bear River, but beyond that point there is no coal. At Carbon, above Laramie City, an excellent bank has been opened; and southwest of Cheyenne a very extensive field is being worked by a Mr. Marshall, who has made a contract to supply several hundred tons to Denver.

On Saturday last a large number of geological and mineral specimens were shipped to Washington, to be used in illustrating Professor Hayden's report.

Dr. R. G. Curtin, of Pennsylvania, is in company with Mr. Stevenson.

These discoveries will also necessarily make this western country of vast importance; and will no doubt cause it to become more quickly settled up than it otherwise would have been. It is impossible to estimate the length of time it will take to use up these fields, there being sufficient to supply the country for centuries.

For the South to Consider.—John Q. Adams of Massachusetts, in the course of his visit to the South, just before the late election, told the Southern people a few wholesome truths. Coming from a Democrat, we trust they will consider them well. He told the rebels that the North regarded four points as having been established by the result of the war beyond all further controversy, and that they would not suffer any one of these points to be overruled or disturbed. They were, (1) that secession is impossible; (2) that slavery can never exist in this country; (3) that the enfranchised slaves must be protected in all their rights, and must have the political power to protect themselves; (4) that absolute freedom of travel, of residence, and of speech, must be guaranteed to every citizen of the United States. Whenever the rebels bring themselves to a full acquiescence in these positions, a new era of prosperity and happiness will dawn upon them.

Emigration societies in England are sweet, Christian like arrangements, and might well be mentioned in the Alabama list of grievances. The object of these societies is to induce discharged convicts to emigrate to the United States. This sort of thing has gone on too long now, and we might return the compliment by abolishing our penitentiaries and using Europe for a convict colony.

It is now the style to issue wedding cards three weeks before the event transpires.

Graceful and Pleasing.—Those new and beautiful styles of Parlor Suites, now so fashionable at the East, can be seen at Hurgren & Shindler's. Also, many rare articles of ornament and use, for the parlor and the house.

County Tax.—Those [illegible] who owe [illegible] tax will be liable to pay costs of collection, if delinquent, on and after January 4th.

A Fine Thing for the Teeth.—The fragrant Sozodont has taken a very prominent place among the approved dentrifices of the day. It is a very popular article for the toilet, highly recommended by all who have used it as a beautifier and preserver of the teeth, refreshing the mouth, sweetening the breath and arresting the cause of decay.

"Spalding's Glue."

Messrs. P. H. Drake and Co., proprietors of the Plantation Bitters, are said to be the largest importers of St. Croix Rum and Calisaya bark in America. The Rum imported by this firm is all used in the preparation of their Bitters, and is manufactured under the immediate supervision of one of their agents upon a leased plantation on the Island of St. Thomas. Over nine thousand puncheons, about one million gallons, is used annually for their Bitters alone. The Calisaya Bark is all imported from Brazil, and is also gathered and selected by the natives, under the supervision of an agent sent out for that purpose. The cures produced by these Bitters are wonderful.

Recitations will be resumed in the Portland Academy and Female Seminary, Monday, Jan. 4, 1869. Classes will be reorganized, and a suitable opportunity afforded for new pupils to enter. Tuition charged for the remainder of the Quarter only.

Night School.—Mr Fitzgerald has opened a Night School in the schoolhouse (up stairs) near the Catholic Church. For Terms, See the Teacher.

DR. J. H. HATCH,
(Late Mack & Hatch,)
DENTIST.

The patronage of those desiring FIRST-CLASS OPERATIONS respectfully solicited.

Satisfaction in all cases guaranteed.

G. VENARD.
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.
Each package bears the signature of G. VENARD.

WOLFE'S
CELEBRATED
AROMATIC
SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS.

TO THE CITIZENS OF OREGON:

I BEG LEAVE TO CALL THE ATTENTION OF THE citizens of Oregon to my celebrated AROMATIC SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS, a medicinal Diet Drink of eminently salutary qualities, manufactured by myself, exclusively at my factory at Schiedam, in Holland.

In Gravel, Gout and Rheumatism, in Obstructions of the Bladder and Kidneys, its effects are prompt, decided, and invariably reliable.

It is now some twenty years since the Proprietor first introduced it to the American public, and during that time he has received over 3,000 letters from physicians, endorsing it as the purest liquor they have ever used in their practice.

It is made from barley of the finest quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic juniper berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which expels from the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effects produced on the health and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers, new settlers, and all unacclimated persons are peculiarly liable—the

SCHIEDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS

Will be found absolutely infallible, while, in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, stricture, dyspepsia and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession.

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac simile of his signature on the label. For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants.

Are you WEAK, DEBILITATED, NERVOUS? Is your sleep disturbed? Do you have palpitation of the heart or an inclination to melancholy? Diseases of such nature require a prompt DIURETIC, which will be found in

Wolfe's Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps.

Wolfe's Schiedam Schnapps

Is sold by all Grocers and Apothecaries.

Wolfe's Schiedam Schnapps

Is recommended by all the Medical Faculty.

Wolfe's Schiedam Schnapps

Is imitated and counterfeited, and purchasers will have to use caution in purchasing.

WOLFE'S AROMATIC SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS,

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

Let Us Make the Best of It.

Life is but a fleeting dream,
Care destroys the zest of it;
Swift it glideth like a stream—
Mind you make the best of it!
Talk not of your weary woes,
Trouble, or the rest of it;
If we have but lived repose,
Let us make the best of it!

If your friend has got a heart,
There is something fine in him;
Cast away his darker part,
Cling to what's divine in him.
Friendship is our best relief—
Make no heartless jest of it;
It will brighten every grief,
If we make the best of it.

Happiness [illegible] state,
'Tis no sage experiment,
Simply that the wise and great
May have joy and merriment;
Rank is not its spell indeed,
Money's not the test of it,
But a calm, contented mind,
That will make the best of it.

Trusting in the Power above,
Which, sustaining all of us,
In one common bond of love,
Binding great and small of us,
Whatsoever may befall—
Sorrows or the rest of it—
We shall welcome them all,
If we make the best of it.

ROUGH ON KENTUCKY. George Alfred Town send thus drives back at his Kentucky assailants:

"At Louisville I found your correspondent in a row—his native element. There the tadpole litterateurs who edit the two rebel newspapers, remembered some salient truths I had told upon Stonewall Jackson, the o'er-appreciated rebel of the war—a hero in Gobelin tapestry, whose fame I mean to pierce behind the arras again—and the smell of blood and bad English saturated the city. What epithets, taught by their sisters in that sweet and putrified civilization, they had bestowed upon General George H. Thomas, ricocheted upon me. Denunciations of blasphemy, uttered in tobacco juice, are so common in that city, that when the devil, its titular divinity, arrives, his horn of salutation will be deafened. My little speech was read, nevertheless, to some four or five hundred good Radicals, who believe, like General Thomas, that the great God will extinguish slave-Kentucky by its own wickedness, and people it with Noah, Ham, Canaan, anybody; for anybody would be an improvement. A State too cowardly for treason and too degraded for freedom, it has earned the contempt of the South and North alike. Its people in the war were the soldiers of neither cause, and the bawds and strumpets of both. When news gets dull and you want police items, I will run awhile on Louisville [illegible] of eminence."

CHANGE OF NAME!

MERCADO & CO., SUCCESSORS TO Mercado & Seully have been obliged for their own protection and the safety of the public to change the name of their celebrated Bitters to

MERCADO'S

Native California Wine

BITTERS

We subjoin the following affidavit in an injunction suit formerly pending between Mercado & Seully, plaintiffs, and G. A. Simon, defendant:

P. Sainsevain, being duly sworn, says, "That the article known as Sainsevain's California Wine Bitters was manufactured by Mercado & Seully, about the month of March, 1861, without Sainsevain Brothers having any concern in the manufacture thereof. The deponent has always known and considered said Mercado & Seully as the Sole Proprietors of the Sainsevain California Wine Bitters."

Notwithstanding the above affidavit the said P. Sainsevain is putting up a compound under the name of Sainsevain's California Wine Bitters, representing it to be the same as our celebrated Bitters, which we have been manufacturing and selling in immense quantities since 1860, and also affixing a nearly similar label to that used on our genuine Wine Bitters. BENOIT DECEIVED. Send for

NATIVE CALIFORNIA WINE BITTERS,

And you will obtain the same popular beverage so favorably known since 1860. Beware of Counterfeits! Purchasers of our Wine Bitters are requested to observe the familiar old yellow label, and see that the words, "MERCADO & SEULLY, SAN FRANCISCO," are engraved on the Government stamp pasted over the cork of each bottle. This is the only effectual security against the counterfeit imitation.

PROSPECTUS

OF THE

Weekly Oregonian.

FOR 1869.

Nineteenth Volume!

Only $3.00 a Year.

By common consent, the OREGONIAN ranks first among the papers published in the Northwest. It is the oldest paper in the State, and its circulation and influence are greater than that of any other two papers combined. As a journal of enterprise in gathering the latest intelligence, and in giving in each issue a larger amount and greater variety of reading matter it has no competitor. It is thoroughly identified with this city and State and neighboring Territories, where the number of its readers and its influence are constantly increasing.

An unflinching advocate of sound Union principles, it at the same time pays special attention not only to MATTERS OF GENERAL INTEREST, but to everything of moment to the great

Agricultural, Manufacturing,

AND MINING INTERESTS,

And to the development of the resources and settlement of the Northwest.

Its columns contain a carefully prepared digest of

NEWS FROM ALL PARTS
OF
Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana,

TELEGRAMS FROM

THE EAST AND EUROPE

are published as full as in the California journals, and put before our readers from ONE TO THREE DAYS BEFORE ANY OTHER PAPER IN THE STATE.

Among its corps of writers are regular correspondents at New York and Washington City, men who, having lived in this State, are able to write on Eastern affairs, both politically and commercially from an Oregon standpoint.

Its Literary and General Selections are from the best sources.

EXTENDED AND RELIABLE

Commercial Reports

are furnished every week, giving the Financial, Dry Goods, Hardware, and General Market Reports of Portland, and the latest reports by Telegraph of the San Francisco and New York markets. These reports are acknowledged to be the most accurate published in the State.

In every department it will be, as it has been, the foremost in the State in the field of journalism. Being firmly established, it will go forward with confidence, seeking new plans for improvement and usefulness, and hoping to gain increased circulation and support.
